Harmonised standard	EN ISO 13688:2013+A1:2021 — Protective clothing — General requirements (ergonomics, innocuousness, size designation, ageing, marking and manufacturer's information).
Essential health and safety requirements	Regulation (EU) 2016/425, Annex II: 1.1.1 (ergonomics), 1.1.2 (levels and classes of protection), 1.2.1 (absence of inherent risks / innocuousness of materials), 1.3.1 (adaptation to user morphology), 1.3.2 (lightness and strength), 1.4 (manufacturer's instructions and information), and 2.12 (marking). Conformity with these requirements is documented in the manufacturer's technical documentation (Annex III).
Other technical specifications	Manufacturer’s technical documentation DU-TF-2026-01 and, for the fitted insert, the D3O® T5 EVO X product data sheet (© 2024 Design Blue Limited), which states that the part is CE certified to EN 1621-1:2012 Level 1 and UKCA certified, Type A coverage, tested in ambient, wet and cold (−10 °C) conditions. That statement is the insert manufacturer’s and applies to the insert only; no EN 1621 performance level is claimed for the garment. The EU type-examination certificate itself — notified body, certificate number and expiry date — is not held for this part. This part is made by Shenzhen City U-Lucky Sporting Goods Co., Ltd, Shenzhen, using the same textiles as DS5130 (DU-DoC-2026-012). The textile composition and the textile test report covering those fabrics are recorded as outstanding in DU-TF-2026-01 under GAP-19, as they are for DS5130.
